DULLES OPENS ARMS ACCORD DISCUSSIONS

By WATSON SIMS

London (AP)—John Foster Dulles and U. S. disarmament experts locked themselves in the American Embassy today to work out detailed plans for a limited "open skies" disarmament accord with Russia.

They plan to spend the entire morning in talks," a spokesman said as the U. S. secretary of state closeted himself with Harold Stassen and other American officials.

Stassen heads the American delegation to the five-power U. N. Disarmament subcommittee which has bogged down here after five months of negotiations.

Dulles arranged to sit in later on a strategy meeting of the four Western delegations to the talks, representing the United States, Britain, France and Canada.

Also on tap for Dulles was a meeting with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd to discuss a wide range of diplomatic issues, including the tribal uprising in Muscat and Oman.

The immediate issue in the disarmament negotiations is the forthcoming presentation of a U. S. plan for aerial inspection between Russia and the West.

Some Western observers interpreted Dulles' first statements here as an indication the West is less hopeful than before of obtaining a broader disarmament treaty at this time, and that he will attempt to salvage some sort of agreement on aerial inspection which would reduce the danger of surprise attack.

Speaking to reporters, the secretary particularly cited the open skies plan for aerial inspection in certain areas on both sides of the Iron Curtain to prevent massing of men and armaments for an attack.

"If it be demonstrated that the danger of surprise attack can and will be reduced," he said, "It should be more possible to make (Turn to Page Seven)

Crippling Strike Of Cement Union's Nearing An End

Allentown, (AP)—Construction engineers across the nation moved today to get major building projects rolling again as a crippling strike in the cement industry neared an end.

The 2½-month strike has halted or slowed work on military projects, roads, factories and housing worth a billion dollars. Tens of thousands of idled construction workers now can hope to start working again.

The log jam was broken yesterday with ratification of an agreement between one of the nation's largest cement producers and the United Cement, Lime and Gypsum Workers.

Workers at the nearby Northampton plant of Universal Atlas Cement Co. accepted the union-company pact and the first shift reported at noon. Other plants are falling in line.

Authors of New Times-Mirror Feature Have Fine Reputation

New York—Joseph and Stewart Alsop, whose four times weekly column "Matter of Fact" is appearing in the Warren Times-Mirror have an outstanding reputation for their ability to evaluate the meaning of world events and to report the background which influences these events. Their column is one of the most widely read and most often quoted appearing in newspapers today.

Applly named "the reporter with four legs" by the Saturday Post, the Alsops are known for their diligence as reporters and their unusual access to exclusive information. In 1950, for example, they broke the news that the United States had begun work on the development of the Hydrogen Bomb. In 1955, five months before the official story broke, the Alsops wrote the complete and detailed account of the plans to launch an artificial satellite.

The Alsops received Overseas Press Club awards in 1949 and 1951 for "best interpretation of

Convict in Florida Prison Signs Statement Insisting He Killed Mrs. Sheppard

Deland, Fla., (AP)—Donald J. Wedler today signed a statement that he killed Marilyn Sheppard, a Cleveland attorney for Dr. Samuel Sheppard reported.

William Corrigan said the 23-year-old Florida convict "willingly signed the statement in the presence of Sheriff's Deputies Howard Demott and Jack Lynady."

The attorney's belief in Wedler's story is directly opposed to conclusions of Cleveland police officials after they talked with the prisoner a week ago.

Dr. Samuel Gerber, coroner of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, and James McArthur, former chief of Cleveland detectives, said Wedler knew only as much about the sensational July 4, 1954, slaying case as he might have read in newspapers and magazines.

He knew no details, Gerber and McArthur said.

Corrigan, on the other hand, said "I think this guy did it."

How Corrigan would bring a murder charge against Wedler before a grand jury for indictment was not disclosed. Such a step would be necessary to bring him to trial in Ohio.

Corrigan said the Cleveland officers who saw Wedler last week and branded his story a hoax "obviously came down here with their minds made up."

Corrigan said "incidents and locations given by Wedler convince us there is no doubt he was in Cleveland July 3, 1954, and early on July 4, 1954."

"Some things are beclouded but the man had a shot of dope within a short time before he entered the Sheppard house."

Anderson, S. C., Is Scene of Dramatic Rescue of Baby From Narrow Drill Pipe of Old Well

Anderson, S. C. (AP)—"We oughta everyone give a big cheer for God right now!" shouted someone in the crowd.

The crowd roared in agreement as a weary man climbed out of the 40-foot rescue shaft holding a grimy baby in his arms.

"She's okay," yelled Rescuer Rod Roberts.

But for four terrible hours last night, no one could be sure 17-month-old Yvonne Beasley would come out alive. Her 3-year-old brother Richard David, wept with his parents, begging for his sister to come out of the well.

Jackson Is in Hospital To Undergo Tests

By JOHN CHANDLER

East Meadow, N. Y. (AP)—Battered heavyweight challenger Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson was taken to a hospital with a urinary condition today, five hours after he was tak'd by Champion Floyd Patterson.

Authorities at Meadowbrook Hospital said Jackson's condition was fair. They were awaiting results of chemical, X-ray and microscopic tests undergone by the eccentric, 25-year-old fighter.

Dr. George Erickson, assistant superintendent of the hospital, said it had not been determined whether the ailment had a connection with the fight.

"There was blood in the urine when he was admitted," Dr. Erickson said. "There is a question as to whether there was blood in the urine before the fight."

As for his mental condition, Dr. Erickson said: "There is nothing abnormal in his action or behavior, although I have no means of making a comparison with how he acted before the fight."

Aged Proprietor of Store in Masontown Slain by Robbers

Masontown, Pa. (AP)—A foot print of a tennis shoe on the back of a strangled victim's back gave police a major clue today in the death of an 81-year-old grocer.

The victim, Alvie O. Partridge, was found slain in his small store on Masontown's main street early yesterday.

State police said they think the killer was frightened away before he could get the $110 in the cash register.

A customer found Partridge's body in a back room. His arms were tied behind his back with wire used in setting off dynamite. Another piece of the same type wire was wound tightly about his neck. Two dynamite caps were attached to the wire.

Coroner W. Ralston McGee said there were several bruises on Partridge's forehead. Police also found a footprint on the victim's back that appeared to have been made by a tennis shoe.

CIVIL RIGHTS BILL IS FACING A FILIBUSTER

Washington (AP)—Southern senators agreed today to go along with a move to lay aside the civil rights bill temporarily while the Senate works on a defense money bill and other legislation.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) announced after a meeting of Southern Democrats who are fighting the civil rights bill that they will raise no objection to a two-day armistice in the Senate battle over the measure.

Republican Senate Leader Knowland of California said earlier that backers of the bill are determined to keep the Senate in session all winter if necessary to pass what they regard as an effective bill.

Knowland has said he would not object to a short break in the civil rights debate proposed by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader.

Johnson had announced he would seek a unanimous agreement for the Senate to take up compromise versions of the defense and agricultural appropriations bills, as well as several other pieces of legislation.

Russell said that if Knowland's remark about a session lasting all winter turns out to be a correct prediction, the Southerners will be around.

Russell said the Dixie Democrats feel that if the Senate doesn't complete other legislative work because of the civil rights debate, the responsibility will be Knowland's.

Knowland said, too, he is confident his side has enough votes to defeat any amendments which would require jury trials for persons accused of criminal contempt for allegedly violating court orders designed to protect voting rights.

Southerners have been disputing that claim, and there were indications that the fate of the amendment may lie with half a dozen undecided senators.

Knowland talked with reporters after he and other GOP congressional leaders held their weekly meeting with Eisenhower.

He said he expected the House (Turn to Page Seven)

Pilot Throws Seaboard in Tizzy by Flight Change

Charlotte, N. C. (AP)—Ralph Tate of Pittsburgh, Pa., changed his mind—and threw the Southeastern Seaboard into a tizzy.

Tate, piloting a Piper plane from Pittsburgh, left Winston, Salem yesterday noon, after refueling, on a scheduled flight to Charlotte . . . and disappeared.

Civil Aeronautics Administration officials radioed back and forth seeking news of the missing plane, finally alerted the Air Force to ready search planes.

Then at 9 p. m. Tate phoned CAA headquarters here. Said he'd changed his mind and decided to go to Rock Hill, S. C., instead. He'd forgotten to notify headquarters of the switch, he said.

Nation's First Lady in Denver for Dedication

Denver (AP)—The nation's First Lady, Mamie Doud Eisenhower, returned to Denver yesterday, gracious and smiling and "very happy to be home."

Denver area military and political leaders were at Lowry Air Force Base as the presidential plane Columbine III touched down on a Lowry runway.

A moment later she eagerly asked: "Is Momma in the car?" She joined Mrs. Elvera Doud in a black limousine for the trip to the Brown Palace Hotel, where she will stay until Saturday.

Her return to Washington Saturday will be timed so she may spend the day with her son, Major John Eisenhower, on his 35th birthday observance.

NEW RECORD FOR CUB
Willow Grove (AP)—Vernon Kroemer, 39-year-old electronics scientist of Sellersville, Pa., flew a radio controlled K3 model Piper Cub plans a distance of 4½ miles today, reportedly a world record. A spokesman at the Willow Grove Naval Air Station, scene of the National Championship Model Plane Meet, said the flight by Kroemer's model broke a record of 1.49 miles claimed by the Russians at Leningrad in 1946.

Shapiro Outlines Action For Cutting Department Expenses

Harrisburg (AP)—Secretary of Welfare Harry Shapiro looked today to sharp reductions in maintenance outlays at every institution under his department in order to meet budget reductions made by the Legislature.

Shapiro said each institution must "operate on a sharply reduced budget" regardless of its own appropriation. He asserted that action by the Legislature had left the department 32 million dollars short of its needs and that a sacrifice in the physical plants of the institutions was the only recourse.

The secretary outlined the action he was asking his administrators to take after completing a tour of 25 mental health hospitals and other institutions.

Shapiro's departmental budget request originally was 171 million dollars. This was reduced in the governor's budget to 157 million and by the Legislature to 149 million.

Shapiro said the reduced budget "made no provision for a mandated salary increase of five per cent a year for all employees." He said payrolls accounted for about 75 per cent of all expenditures at institutions and that "this represents an additional shortage of 10 million dollars."

He said hospital administrators were being asked to review their payrolls and substitute "fewer and more competent employees for those who might be unable or unwilling to give a full day's work for a full day's pay."

Manufacturers Vice President Witness At P.U.C. Hearing

Harrisburg (AP)—An officer of Manufacturers Light and Heat Co., Pittsburgh, testified today that the July, 1956, steel strike resulted in increased use of natural gas in western Pennsylvania steel mills.

C. A. Massa, vice president of the utility, told the Public Utility Commission that steel companies kept their blast furnaces warm with natural gas rather than with gas usually produced from coke ovens.

"We made no credit adjustment on this," he testified. "Our sales to Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp. were quite variable, varying from month to month depending on their fuel requirements."

Massa testified at a commission hearing on the application of Manufacturers for a rate increase of $6,473,000 for 246,500 consumers in 26 counties. The commission suspended the increase until Nov. 12 for an investigation.

Massa's testimony was designed as a reply to a request from Morris Mendlin, commission attorney, who asked for an explanation of an apparent discrepancy between figures on industrial and residential use of gas provided by manufacturers.

Massa explained the steel strike last year resulted in an exceptional use of gas by Jones and Laughlin, and other steel companies.

Greene County Weather Prophet Loses His Hat

Waynesburg (AP)—Atty. John Daily of Waynesburg will have to wait until next year for his day in the rain.

Daily is the unofficial weather prophet of this Greene County community where tradition says it rains every July 29th.

Daily and other rainmakers stayed up until last midnight waiting for the rain. Not a drop fell.

Records now show that it has failed to rain only nine times on July 9th since 1876.

Daily, who had won five hats in making a traditional bet, must now give one to Bob Considine, newspaper and television personality.

Lamented Daily: "Wait until next year."

Camp Burglars Move in On Pithole but Gin Safe

The camp burglars, who have been foraging in southwest Warren County, moved into northern Venango County in a big way over the weekend, knocking off 11 camps and cabins in Pithole District, Allegheny Township.

The burglars' operation is the same in all cases. After making sure the camp is vacant they kick in a window, pry off a hasp. Once inside they do no more damage but ransack thoroughly.

Their latest loot includes Hudson Bay blankets, whiskey, ale, beer, rifle, toaster, shells, furniture, soft drinks—everything, in fact, except gin which is invariably left behind.

To the Commissioners of Warren County, Court House, Warren, Pennsylvania

Gentlemen: This is in reply to your letter directed to me through the medium of the press and radio. Not having a copy of that letter, it becomes necessary to attempt to interpret your statements from what appeared in the newspapers and was heard on the radio.

I believe that you have beclouded the issue. To me the only point involved is whether or not the District Attorney has the right to appoint an investigator for his office. You have brought up other questions which I find necessary to answer: This job was not created at my insistence. If you check the record you will find that it has been in existence for over twenty-five years. In order to save the County the expense of a special investigator or County detective, I was asked to do the additional work for the compensation provided. A court order to this effect was issued and I assumed the extra duties upon taking office as sheriff.

Regarding compensation: the Sheriff's salary is fixed by law at $4,000 per year. My chief deputy's salary for 1956 was $2,800. As to the compensation for special investigations, the amount of $3,957, which you stated my deputy and I earned, is misleading.

A check of the records will reveal that a large percentage of this was necessary expense, which included meals, lodging and gasoline. (Turn to Page Six)

Salesman Narrowly Escapes Death in Crash Early Today

Herbert Loberg, 34, of Jamestown, a salesman for Midtown Motors, was reported to be in "satisfactory" condition at Warren General Hospital today after being pinned under the wreckage of a car which crashed spectacularly just before 2 a. m. this morning at the intersection of Market street and Seventh avenue.

While wreckers took what seemed an eternity, to the victim, to raise the car without sliding it and further injuring Loberg, the victim lay with that portion of the car ahead of the dashboard pinning his left hip and legs.

According to police, Loberg was heading toward Warren on upper Market street about 1:50 a. m. when his car missed the curve at Mork Park. The machine hurtled along the left lane, bashed over a traffic sign, pushed past a smaller tree, uprooted another tree eight inches in diameter and carried it several feet.

By this time the 1957 Ford was past Seventh avenue and rolling across a vacant lot owned by Pick-lets. Loberg was thrown from the left door of the car and pinned under the front section as the car came to rest on its roof. The wreck covered 300 feet.

Damage to the car was estimated at $3,350. The hospital did not know the extent of Loberg's injuries.

TWO SHEFFIELD BOYS HURT IN ACCIDENT THAT CLAIMS LIFE OF RICHARD SPENCER

Eighteen-year-old Richard Allen Spencer of Trueman's was killed about 9:50 last night when he was thrown from a car which crashed along Kifer Hill Road above Endeavor in Hickory Township, Forest County.

Taken to Titusville Hospital with undetermined injuries were two young Sheffield passengers, James Sevannick, aged 14, and Mickey Italiano, 15. Also admitted was Jerry Salsgiver, about 20, of Trueman's, thought to be driver of the car.

Sevannick, least injured of the trio, said the boys had been cruising the Kelletville-Endeavor area and were coming down the Kifer Hill Road when the car apparently came over the brow of a hill too fast. The machine slid on the gravel, nosed into a ditch and turned over. Spencer, a passenger in the front seat, was found lying some distance from where the car stopped rolling.

Maurice Rhodes, Forest County Coroner, has delayed issuing a death certificate pending investigation but lists injuries as "multiple," including a fractured skull and neck.

Funeral services for Richard Spencer will be held at 2 p. m. Friday from Borden's Funeral Home in Sheffield where visitng hours will start at 7 p. m. Wednesday. The Rev. Dewey Yale of Sheffield Free Methodist Church will officiate with burial in Barnes Cemetery.

The victim was a student at Marienville High School. He was born Feb. 18, 1939 in Warren, son of Adnan and Grace Ewings Spencer. Surviving besides his parents are the following brothers and sisters, all at home: Mrs. Jane Miller, Sue, Jane, James, Mary, Jack, Cathy, Robert and Marjorie.

Richard belonged to Clarion County Bucktail Association and Kelletville Sportsmen's Club.

Producers Praise Government Move to Limit Imports on Oil

By CHARLES C. HASLET

Washington (AP)—A new government effort to limit oil imports drew praise today from oil state congressmen but howls from New England senators.

A voluntary import curb which the White House said "could lead to mandatory controls" if it is violated was asked by President Eisenhower yesterday. He called for a 10 per cent cut in oil imports by companies east of the Rockies. It is designated to assure a high rate of domestic oil production which could be needed for national defense.

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) said a reduction of South American oil shipments to New England "will surely result in a price rise in the near future," and added, "In fact, that is the purpose of the order."

Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass.) expressed hope that oil users "are not penalized by price increases or restricted supplies" under the program, but said he would demand "immediate remedial action" if it is needed.

On the other hand, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said, "This is a long overdue action which should strengthen the national security," as well as "provide some relief for our hard-pressed domestic producers."

The report recommended that established importing companies other than in the Far West be requested to cut crude oil imports 10 per cent below their average for the years 1954, 1955 and 1956. The committee was established to study oil imports from a security standpoint.

ESCAPE PLAN FOILED

Pittsburgh (AP)—Allegheny County Workhouse officials are trying to learn who sawed partway through a bar in a first-floor window of the northern wing. Supt. Lawrence P. Keenan said guard Ed Wright made the discovery last week. Keenan said rubbish had been piled against the window to hide the cutting.

The FBI said he admitted stealing $22,600 on Saturday, then going to the association's office Sunday, shooting himself in the chest and setting fire to the vault to make it look like a robbery.

Rep. Kearns Declares United States Must Retain Okinawa

Washington (AP)—Rep. Kearns (R-Pa.), recently returned from a journey to the Far East, says the United States must retain control of Okinawa for defense reasons.

"We must keep Okinawa. In my opinion, far into the foreseeable future," he said yesterday in a speech in the House.

Kearns travelled 21,840 miles in 18 days. He visited Travis Field in San Francisco, Hickman Field in Hawaii, Wake Island, Tokyo, Okinawa, Formosa and Hong Kong.

In his discussion of Okinawa, Kearns said: "The Japanese people as a whole realize that through the strong arm of defense, made possible by the investment of American dollars in this strategic island, we control militarily from our base in Okinawa one-third of the world's population, offensively and defensively."

He said he is convinced that recent riots at the Formosa capital of Taipei were not Communist inspired.

Grey Knights To Appear in Competition Here August 17

The "Grey Knights" of Rochester, N. Y., are justly famed in this drum and bugle corps neighborhood for their trim ranks, music in concert and intricate marching maneuvers which will delight spectators for a quarter hour on War Memorial Field the evening of Saturday, August 17. Spectacle of Music beginning at 8 p. m. The "Grey Knights" are an outgrowth of a junior American Legion Drum Corps from pre-World War II days which reorganized as a senior unit after the war. It has 65 members and is one of the largest corps now in existence. Uniquely, all its music is written by members and all instruction comes from the same source. For the first time since its inception, the Knights plan to attend the 1957 National Legion Convention in Atlantic City during September.

A fifth competitor has been signed for American Legion "Spectacle of Music" on War Memorial Field the evening of Saturday, August 17. The newcomer to the drum corps competition list is the outfit from Vern-Acklin post in Verona, Pa. They will compete for $1,600 in prizes along with West-shoremen of Wormleysburg, Pa. Grey Knights of Rochester, N. Y., Cavaliers of Batavia, N. Y., and Toledo Demons of Toledo, Ohio. First prize is $600.

Rain Date has been set for Sunday afternoon to avoid an equal split such as the type forced upon sponsoring Chief Cornplanter Post in competition last year which was delayed.

Hoet Cornplanter Drum and Bugle Corps will not enter the "Spectacle", of course, but is expected to give a marching and playing demonstration. The unit will stay in shape by playing Saturday night at the firemen's parade in Cambridge Springs and on Sunday afternoon will be one of a dozen corps participating in a "standstill" contest at Moose summer home on Lake Chautauque. A "standstill" contest allows the groups to form into a concert shape on field and then play for a certain period, ten minutes in this case.

Cornplanter Drum and Buglers also plan to take in the State American Legion Convention in Harrisburg on August 9-10, this being the furthest the group has traveled and also the first time the outfit will have entered state Class C competition. (For those who are not aware of it, Class A competition is when the unit is composed of 100 percent legion members, Class B 75 percent, Class C 50 percent. The smaller legion posts are necessarily forced to seek membership outside the ranks. Class D competition is junior corps.)

Another meeting for development of plans for the Spectacle of Music is scheduled for 8 p. m. to night in the Legion Home.

Dear Editor,
I am another of these Clarendon Mothers who also believe that something should be done to straighten the town Clarendon out so it will be a better and safer place for us to raise our children. As for Mrs. Cloutman being shot what and how would we feel if we were in her place? Also I do certainly believe that there should

Delay Announced in Reopening Bonus Applications For Vets

By DICK HOENIG
Harrisburg (P)—Although the 1957 Legislature acted to give World War II veterans another chance to obtain their state bonus the application lists won't be reopened for another month.

The deadline for applying for the maximum $500 bonus was last Dec. 31 but for the fourth straight session the General Assembly amended the original bonus law to extend the application deadline.

However, the new law, signed July 8 by Gov. Leader does not become effective until Sept. 1.

On that date the new application deadline will become Dec. 31, 1958, and eligible veterans who have not received a bonus can once again send their applications to the World War II Compensation Bureau at Harrisburg.

The bureau notified each inquiring veteran that legislation to extend the deadline was pending and after the Sept. 1 effective date of the new law the bureau said it will mail out the proper application forms.

Under the original 1947 bonus law veterans had to apply for the extra compensation by Dec. 31, 1950. The 1951 Legislature made the final date a year after that. Then the 1953 Legislature moved it back to Dec. 31, 1953. The 1955 session extended it from 1953 until 1958.

The current amendments were among the first bills introduced in the 1957 session. Sponsored by Rep. T. H. W. Jones (R-Montgomery) it did not clear the legislature until a week before final adjournment.

Since March 17, 1950, when the first bonus checks were written, the records of State Treasurer Robert F. Kent show that 1,317,086 checks have been issued. Kent fixed the total payment at $426,328,187.70.

FAMED AERIALIST TO BE AT CONNEAUT PARK

How does a great aerialist, who uses his teeth and jaws to grip a perch 100 feet above the ground while his partner performs stunts hanging on his feet, prepare his molars and jaws for such strenuous activity?
This question was put to Walter Mazurs of the famed Two Mazurs, who will thrill audiences with their aerial maneuvers Monday, August 5, thru Sunday, August 11 at Con-neaut Lake Park.
"It takes rigorous training and long, weary hours of preparation", the sensational performer said. "I work out in a gymnasium with my teeth like most people do with their arms and legs. I grip the rope, which has weights on the bottom, in my teeth. Then I walk back and forth for hour at a time, pulling the weights up and letting them drop back down. This exercise strengthens my jaw and at the same time is good for the neck muscles, which also get a pretty hard workout when we perform."

Don't miss the Two Mazurs when they appear at Conneaut Lake Park on Monday, August 5 thru Sunday, August 11. Two shows daily—at 4:00 p. m. and 10:30 p. m.

Burgess Receives Nice Letter From Recent Visitor in Boro

The following self-explanatory letter has been received by Burgess W. E. Rice:
171 Carver Street,
Pittsburgh, Pa.
July 28, 1957

To the Mayor,
Warren, Pa.

Dear Sir:
Last week, because of the excessive hot weather in Pitts-burgh, we drove up to our hunting camp in Allegheny Forest, not far from Sheffield, where we certainly found surcease from the heat.

We did most of our shop-ping in Warren that being the first time we had ever been in your city. Were so pleased with so many of its good fea-tures, that I felt I just had to write and express to you and to other officials our pleasure and congratulations on a job well-done.

First, congratulations are due for the very clean sidewalks and streets and the placing of litter-boxes at various points—we had occasion to see many of the citizens, both adults and youngsters, making trips to those boxes with paper, bags, etc.—even saw one youngster showing another where to place it—we were at one time parked in front of an ice-cream parlor, with many customers coming out, and in-variably placing their rubbish inside the receptacles. This was an indication of a popular desire for a clean city, with whole-hearted co-operation. Something which I am sorry to say, we could never obtain here in this big city. It showed that someone had the fore-sight to place these boxes at strategic points and probably there had been, at some fu-ture time, an out-and-out cam-paign to educate the public on the good results to be had by their use. Congratulations to ALL.

Also, we found folks to be most congenial and so co-op-erative when we asked direc-tions or the location of any particular store—this was true of those at the A&P mar-ket and the Gulf Gas station, and even passersby, who might have overheard our queries—it seemed to make for a more pleasant stay all around.

We sat for a while and en-joyed the splendid scenery—view of the winding river, and even saw two fishermen in a boat who seemed to be having extra good luck in their catch that morning.

So to you and all those offi-cials in charge of affairs in your nice clean city, congratu-lations, and it is a place to be justly proud of, and if you have a Chamber of Commerce, it should make boastful claims for a wonderful town.

Sincerely,
(Mrs.) Cora V. Ross.

Two Outstanding TV Stars Will Be At Chautauqua Fair

Dunkirk—Two of the television's most popular singing stars will team with a famous dance band and two variety acts in "TV Discoveries of 1957," one of the feature attractions to be presented for grandstand audiences at the Chautauqua County Fair.

Lu Ann Simms, who for three years was one of the stars of the Arthur Godfrey Show, and Ken Carson, the versatile vocalist of the Garry Moore Show, will headline the "Discoveries," scheduled Thursday and Friday nights, Sept. 5 and 6.

Jimmy Palmer and his "Dancing Shoes" orchestra will accompany the singers. Palmer, who began his career by winning a Paul Whiteman "Youth of America" contest in Pittsburgh, became the featured vocalist with such famous dance-bands as Dick Stabile, Blue Baron and Les Brown before he branched out on his own.

Featured in "Discoveries" with the singing stars and the orchestra will be the zany Florida Trio and a foot-juggler extraordinary, Lou Bogert.

Using a conglomeration disguised as scarecrow as the center of their act, the Florida Trio goes through a series of comical situations that has "broken up" audiences in night spots throughout the country.

Bogert, a Korean War veteran, does more things with his feet than most people would try with their hands, juggling sticks, bottles and furniture.

Lu Ann Simms, a native of Rochester, gained her foothold to fame with an appearance, "for a lark," on Arthur Godfrey's Talent Scouts program. She won, and next morning was singing for the millions who listen to Arthur Godfrey Time. She stayed with Godfrey as one of his "Little Godfreys" for three years recently branching out successfully on her own.

Ken Carson has proved in his eight-year stint with Garry Moore, that he can do just about anything in the line of entertainment—and do it well. He has been appearing professionally since he was 15. He not only sings but plays guitar, trumpet and harmonica, tap dances and does comedy routines. He was with the famous "Sons of the Pioneers" during the period of their greatest popularity.

2,200 People Enjoy Annual Picnic of United Natural Gas

With perfect picnic weather prevailing throughout the day, approximately 2,200 people from northwestern Pennsylvania turned out to enjoy the United Natural Gas Company employees' picnic at Wildcat Park, Ludlow, on Saturday.

The several committees had

NOTICE

The Board of Supervisors of Conewango Township, Warren County, Pennsylvania, will receive sealed bids, to be opened August 6, 1957, at 8:00 P. M. E. D. S. T. for approximately 10,000 Gallons RT-9, meeting Pennsylvania Department of Highways Specifications for H-2 Tar, furnished and applied as directed.

Further details for the above may be obtained at the office of the Township Secretary Frederick A. Berry, RD 2, Warren, Pennsylvania.

The right to reject any or all bids, or any part of any bid, and to select the bid, which best meets the requirements of the Board of Supervisors is specifically reserved. Frederick A. Berry, Secretary RD 2, Warren, Pennsylvania July 25-30, Aug. 2-31 planned a full schedule of events for the day and they got underway at 9 a. m.

There were amusement rides for the youngsters, games and guessing contests for all ages with prizes for the winners, free ice cream and coffee for dinner, free pop throughout the day, professional entertainment and a two-hour dance in the afternoon.

Highlights of the entertainment was the performance of Abbie Neal and Her Ranch Girls who also furnished music for the dance. William T. Jones of Clermont and Donald N. McEltee of Clarion won the door prize. Five attendance prizes were won by Wilbert G. Knapp and Edwin O. Ellis, both of Brookville; Alfred Battler of Clarion; John C. Woods of Hampton and Oscar Shilling of Island Run Station, Ridgway.

Eugene Gumbert, Bradford, and Floyd Kahle, Clarion, were declared winners of the employee guessing contest, and George B. Blaisner of Clermont won the pensioners' guessing contest.

The oldest pensioner present was Thomas M. Perry of Fertigs who is 92 years of age. Also in attendance was pensioner William J. Kane of Mt. Jewett who had more than 55 years of continuous service with the company. In all, 64 pensioners were in attendance at the picnic.

Warren Youth Aids in Rescue of Four Men

John Rapp, 17, who lives with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rapp, 316 Pennsylvania avenue, west, was one of a quartet who saved four men from possible drowning in Chautauqua Lake when their 12-foot power craft capsized about 1:30 a. m. Sunday opposite Lakewood Road and Gun Club.

The Rapp youth was visiting at the Fischer cottage with two other boys when the cries were heard coming from the darkened lake. One of the boys, John Laison, 15, of 35 Shady Side Avenue, ran three blocks to get his family's boat and sped back to pick up Rapp, Richard Fischer, 15, and Tony Cusimano, also 15, of Jamestown.

The boys then cruised to the center of the lake and had three of the men in the boat and a fourth in firm tow when Lakewood Rescue craft arrived. The survivors were identified as Elliott Swenson, of Celoron, Edward, Robert and Ray Eddy, all of RD 1, Ashville.

The boat, which had 7 and 10-horsepower outboard motors attached to it was towed to shore. The men were treading water when the boys arrived.

CHECKI

Our spies report that when the petroleum industry presents that annual, nationwide whingding known as "Oil Progress Week" from October 13th to 19th, its slogan will be: "With today's gasolines, you're driving a bargain."

How about that? Is there such a thing as a "bargain" any more? Has the great American motorist any substantial reason to congratulate himself?

Loking abroad, here's what we find: In France, the government recently boosted regular gasolines 13.9 cents, so the price is now 85.4 cents a gallon. An increase of 17.6 cents on "high octane" gasolines bring the price to $1.01 a gallon. And that high octane rating is about 91 octane, or approximately the U. S. average for ordinary gasolines. In other words, France's dollar gasoline is the equivalent of our 30 cent gasoline! Our own premium gasoline (98 octane) sells at about 32 cents, and our super-gasolines, of 100 octane and upward, are around 35 to 37 cents a gallon.

In Italy, regular gasoline is 53 cents a gallon and premium 92 cents. In the United Kingdom, regular is 52.8 cents and premium 62 cents.

Motoring in most of the world is obviously still a luxury, and gasoline far beyond the comprehension of the most advanced foreign countries. But now let's take a look and see whether today's gasoline is any bargain by our own standards.

In 1920 a dollar would buy over eight pounds of bread; two pounds of pork chops; two pounds of coffee, and over 20 pounds of gasoline. Today, 37 years later, a dollar buys less than six pounds of bread; one and one-third pounds of pork chops; 15 1/2 ounces of coffee. But your gasoline dollar will buy 28 1/2 pounds (nearly five gallons) of top-quality fuel—or 69 miles of driving power. However, you will have to add to that gasoline dollar about 40 cents more for direct taxes. But even though these have soared 39 percent since 1948, gasoline - plus - taxes still costs less than most items in the family budget.

And we will be reminded too during that Oil Progress Week of the millions of dollars worth of free services we have come to expect at the gas station, such as maps, windshield washing, tire checking, advice and modern plumbing.

Many in Warren join with the community of Youngsville in mourning the sudden and unexpected passing of Harry Highhouse, for five years congenial and popular proprietor of the Fairmont Hotel in that town. While a resident of this city Harry endeared himself to all who knew him. He always took close interest in affairs for community betterment.

Be sure and read "Matter of Fact" by Joseph and Stewart Alsop, starting elsewhere in the Times-Mirror today. Appearing four days a week, millions of people are keeping a questioning eye on Washington and on the world through close study of this column. The Alsop Brothers, through their column provide answers you need to know to be informed. You'll know what's really happening behind the scenes when you read the Alsops!

New tables placed in the picnic area of Crescent Park near the Playgrounds on the South Side are proving more popular every day. During the weekend they were in great demand with most of them in use during the evening hours.

One of the most delightful picnics of the summer season was sponsored by the Salvation Army at Celoron Park last Saturday with about sixty adults and children joining in the annual outing.

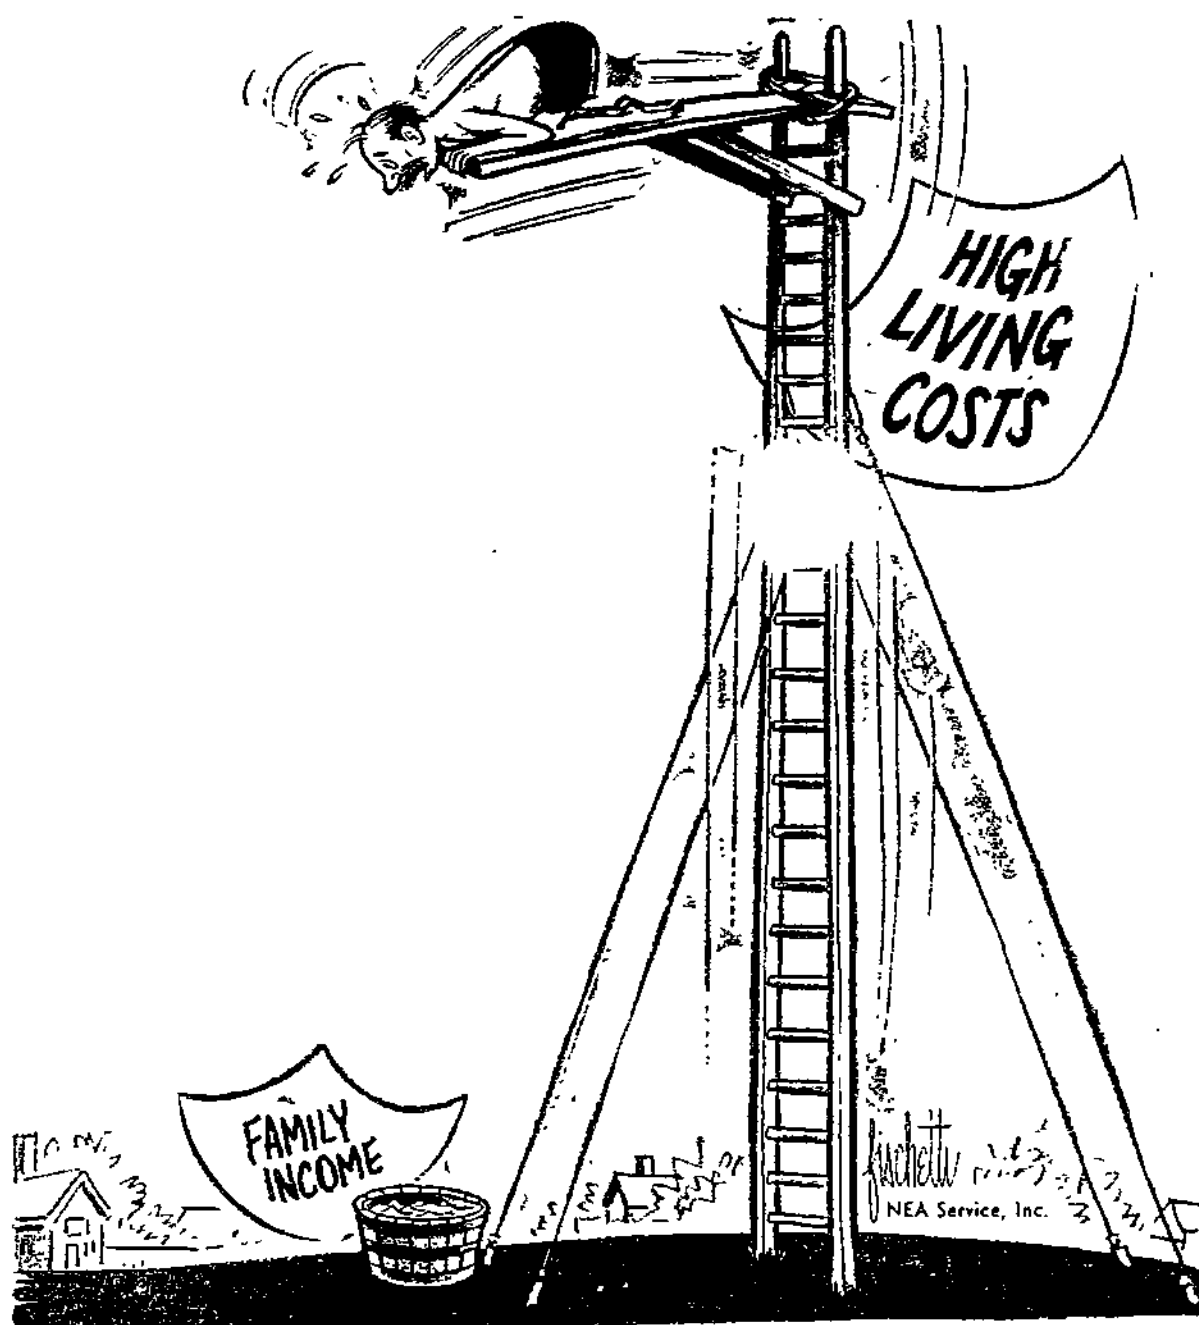

As was to be expected the only uncertainty about last night's heavyweight fight in New York was the pool number that would be the winner.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

These are the commandments, which the Lord commanded Moses for the children of Israel in Mount Sinai. — Leviticus 27:34.

All the good of which humanity is capable is comprised in obedience. — J. Stuart Mill.

"It Didn't Look So Small When I Was Down There"

Matter Of Fact:

'They Won't Work for Ike'

By STEWART ALSOP

Top officials of the Eisenhower administration, including the President himself, are spending a good deal of their time these days almost literally on their knees, pleading with leading businessmen to take jobs with the government. And about nineteen times out of twenty, they are getting a flat refusal.

If the implications were not so serious, the situation would be downright farcical. Take the search for someone to head the International Cooperation Administration, the agency which handles billions of dollars in Foreign aid, and which is a vitally important instrument of American foreign policy.

When John Hollister decided to resign as chief of the ICA, the search for a successor began with James Smith, the extremely able former Assistant Secretary of the Navy. Smith turned it down. Since then, the fantastic total of twenty-one leading (and not-so-leading) businessmen have been offered the job, and have refused. Recently, the refusals were coming in at the rate of three a day.

It is now hoped that Smith, the first choice, can after all be persuaded to take on the job. But the fact that twenty-one men turned down one of the most interesting and influential jobs in the government suggests that something is very wrong somewhere.

So does the well-publicized and thus far futile search for a successor to Charles Wilson as Secretary of Defense. The Defense Secretaryship is, after all, the third, perhaps the second, most important post in the American government. Yet three industrialists hand-running have turned down the job—Clarence Randall of Inland Steel, Ernest Breech of Ford Motors, Ralph Cordiner of General Electric.

Bankers are apparently just as reluctant as industrialists to take a government post. Enough bankers were offered the government's number two fiscal job, the under-secretaryship of the Treasury, to make a small bankers' convention. But a lawyer, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Fred Scribner, had to be promoted by default.

It is often said that businessmen refuse to serve the government because they fear exposure to Congressional badgering. Retiring Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey's fourteen-day ordeal before a Senate committee is cited as the sort of thing that scares off the businessmen. This is no doubt part of the explanation. But it is certainly not the whole of it.

Two of the most interesting jobs in the government are now going begging, and neither involves any painful contact with Congress. One is the soon-to-be-vacated post of chief of the State Department's policy planning staff, now headed by Robert Bowie. Secretary of State Dulles wants someone from outside the government to take on the policy planning staff. But although the job involves the most fascinating kind of high-level policy-making, there are no takers so far, and the post may go instead to a Foreign Service professional.

Robert Cutler, special assistant to the President and Secretary of the National Security Council, has in some ways the most interesting job in the government. He deals in all the highest issues of national policy, and he briefs the President daily on such issues. Cutler wants to go back to his Boston bank and repair his private fortunes. Yet, so far, he is staying on, because no qualified man to replace him has been found.

And so it goes. President Truman used to complain almost daily about the difficulty of getting good men to serve the government. In fact, President Eisenhower, heading a strongly pro-business administration, is having a lot more trouble than Truman did.

Part of the trouble is money, of course. There are the comparatively low government salaries, and the conflict-of-interest problems, but the fact is that many businessmen ruthlessly penalize any executive who leaves to work for his government. One of the President's closest advisers, for example, who has no private means, has already lost half his pension rights in the firm in which he was formerly an executive. Businessmen who work for the government also tend to lose their place on the corporate ladder, and when they return they find that they have been shoved down several rungs.

Perhaps Congress ought to have another look at the conflict-of-interest statutes, and at salary rates and income tax exemptions in the executive branch. But business also ought to have another look at its practices in respect to those who take government jobs. For it is certainly in the interest of business that the President's experiment in staffing the top levels of government with businessmen should not fail. And it will fail if the government can draw only on second raters, the independently rich, and the elderly and retired.

Welcoming New Pastor This Weekend St. Paul's Parish Honors Mattisons

With announcement that the Rev. Carl E. R. Nelson is arriving this weekend from Great Falls, Mont., to take up his duties as pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran congregation, members of the parish entertained with a surprise party for Albert F. Mattison of Falconer, N. Y., who has served as lay minister since last October.

For the informal program honoring Mr. Mattison and his wife, Mrs. Albert Anderson served as organist, Raymond Danielson conducted devotions, and the following representatives of the church's auxiliary organizations expressed their appreciation for Mr. Mattison's service to the church:

Russell Thelin, superintendent of the Sunday school; Clifford Terry, of the Churchmen; Mrs. Allie Peterson, for Martha Society; Mrs. Carl Lundahl, Dorcas Society; Mrs. C. Walter Johnson, Miriam Missionary Society; Mrs. Everett Borg, Effie Mission Circle.

Also Robert Karlson, for the Hi-League; Minor Snarburg, Married Couples' Class; Mrs. Allen Johnson, Junior Mission Band; Thomas Greenlund, Confirmation League; and Harvey Horn, for the choir.

The Junior Choir presented an anthem; Mrs. Clarence Pearson played with a vocal solo; and a male quartet, composed of Carl Bengtson, Russell Thelin, Elmer Bloom and Harvey Horn, sang a number.

A gift of money from the congregation was presented to the Mattisons by Nelson A. Johnson.

The Rev. Axel V. Beckman, pastor of Immanuel Lutheran church of Jamestown, was remembered with a matching set of cuff links and the clasp for his work as vice pastor of the church; Mrs. Mattison and Mrs. Beckman were remembered with orchids.

C. Walter Johnson, chairman of the parish board of administration, served as general chairman for the affair.

TOURNAMENT REPORT

Additional news from the American Contract Bridge League's Summer National Tournament at the Penna-Sheraton in Pittsburgh is that M. A. Kornreich, Warren, paired with Lou Wallace of Jamestown, were second in their section of the Industrial League pairs; while James R. Valone, Warren, and E. J. Rupp, Lakewood, N. Y., led their section in the same event.

It was learned earlier, and reported in yesterday's edition, that Dr. R. H. Israel and son, John, were winners of the Charleroi Pairs, a special one-session event of the championship play.

Papa's Vacation at Home Means No Rest for Mama

PAPA decided to take his vacation at home this year, which means that Mama isn't getting any vacation at all.

The housework doesn't just go on as usual. It's a little heavier with a man at home all day.

The cooking goes on just the same, but with one difference: lunch isn't a snack but a real meal, with Papa home.

When Mama's friends telephone to ask if she can stop by for a cup of coffee or meet them downtown for lunch, Mama explains, "I wish I could—but Joe's home on vacation and I can't just go off and leave him."

Of course, if Papa gets a chance to play golf or go fishing, he takes off with a cheery goodbye.

With Papa on vacation, there are innumerable jobs started—but few finished. And it is amazing how much of waiting on him it takes to keep a husband at the simplest kind of do-it-yourself job.

It's also amazing how upset Papa can get over finding that Junior has misplaced the hammer or used the boards meant for cupboards to build a tree house.

NOW MAMA NEEDS ONE

LIFE at home with Papa on vacation isn't quite the carefree, happy time it is supposed to be—not from Mama's point of view. Just a little matter like keeping the neighborhood children from racing through the house or yelling in the yard while Papa gets an afternoon nap is quite a chore.

After two weeks at home Papa may possibly go back to his job refreshed—but Mama's had it.

And "it" decidedly does not refer to a vacation. After Papa's vacation at home, Mama really needs one.

Maija Baumanis To Appear With Student Symphony

Miss Maija Baumanis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Baumanis of 1 Plum street, and prominent musical figure in her Warren High School class, will be heard at 11:00 a. m. Saturday of this week with the Chautauqua Student Symphony Orchestra under the baton of Edward Murphy.

The young Warren musician is spending the summer at Chautauqua, where she was awarded a scholarship to study piano under James Friskin. She competed for the award with 25 others and shares her scholarship with another student with whom she tied for one of the five awards offered.

She has already had a year of study at Juilliard School of Music, majoring in piano, and will be returning there this fall to continue her work in the same field.

Warren friends will have an opportunity of enjoying her playing once again and judging her progress when she appears in recital for Philomel Club members and guests on September 11 at the Woman's Club.

COUPLES' CLUB

The Hearth and Horizon Couples' Club of Calvary Baptist church will picnic this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Brown in Starbuck, meeting at the church promptly at 6:00 with tureen, table service, hamburgers or wieners, and rolls. The coffee, kool-aid and dessert will be provided by the committee.

Other parish activities this week are the Bible Study and prayer at 7:45 p. m. Wednesday; Prayer for Revival, 7:00 p. m. Saturday.

Fashions for First School Days

BY GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Going back to school is more fun when a girl's dressed for the part.

This fall, she'll have lots of fashion choice. There are new versions of the suspender and jumper dresses with their own carefully tailored white pique or linen blouses. Dark apple red is a color becoming both to small blondes and brunettes so this is a happy choice for the first day of school.

Some of the one-piece dresses simulate boleros for a high-waisted look. And when a girl hasn't yet got much of a waistline of her own, this is important.

Mother will approve dresses in fine imported washable woollens. Many of these are done in plaids with skirts cut on the bias, box-pleated or gathered full.

There are many browns this fall, in shades from caramel-beige to fudge-brown. But there are blues, reds, grays and greens, too.

We show here (left) plaid in a gingham dress cut princess style. Panel is decorated with tabs of pique and big ocean pearl buttons. Mock-bolero dress (right) is done in a woven scatter dot of gray-and-white cotton. Make-believe bolero shows bodice of gray cotton satin; cummerbund is pimento color. Both designs are by Celeste.

1st Presbyterian Vacation Speakers

The Rev. and Mrs. Donald H. Spencer and son, David, of First Presbyterian church, will leave Wednesday to vacation at their summer cottage at Groton, Vt., and in the pastor's absence, guest ministers in the pulpit are announced as follows by Ernest T. Johnson, chairman of the pulpit supply committee:

August 4—the Rev. Frank A. Kehrl, Warren.

August 11—Dr. Raymon M. Kistler, president of Beaver College at Jenkintown and former minister of the local church.

August 18—Dr. J. Stanley Harker, president of Grove City College.

August 25 and September 1—Dr. S. Wilmer Beidler, Erie.

All services on these respective Sunday mornings will begin at nine o'clock.

Sessions of the church school will be held at 10:00 a. m., with film programs in the dining room for children and young people; a study of the church school lesson in the Craft Room for the combined adult classes. Scheduled to teach these are the following individuals:

August 4—William Goudy, Jr.; August 11—Miss Gertrude Slater; August 18—Harold S. Hampson; August 25—Mrs. A. C. Flick, Jr.; September 1—Miss Hulda Angermann.

TODAY is pay day for all who have classified ads.

Franklin Hoffs Resuming Duties At Alaskan Post

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin R. Hoff are winding up their vacation visit in the States and will be returning to their post at Radio Station KSEW in Sitka, Alaska, owned and operated by the Presbyterian Board of National Missions. Mr. Hoff plans to leave this week, his wife to join him a bit later.

The couple enjoyed a pleasant reunion this weekend with their sons, Rowell and Ramon. The former is being transferred from Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas, to Washington, D. C., with Air Force Special Services, and met his parents in Flakbrookville, N. J.

They were joined there by Ramon, who is at Cambridge, Mass., for summer work with the Air Force Research Unit, and will report this fall to the Graduate School of Nuclear Physics at University of Chicago.

The visitors from Alaska have been filling a number of speaking engagements while home. Mr. Hoff speaking Thursday night and showing slides at Presbyterian Headquarters at Chautauque, where Rev. J. H. Cruikshank, former North Warren minister, was presiding. On Saturday, Mrs. Hoff spoke at the lunch of Life Members of the Chautauqua Woman's Club.

They have been busy interviewing personalities at Chautauque and will use their recordings on KSEW's "Voice of Sheldon Jackson" program.

Russell Fire Auxiliary Planning Benefit Social

Russell—Plans for a number of activities in the near future were made by the 25 members of the Volunteer Fire Department Auxiliary in their regular meeting held at the fire hall.

With Mrs. Paul Landell, president, conducting the session, members completed plans for an ice cream social to be served in the fire hall garage from 7:00 to 9:00 p. m. this Wednesday.

The group is working to earn sufficient funds to enable it to move the kitchen from the second floor to the newly-constructed room on the first floor.

Mrs. Elmer Roberts and Mrs. Arnold Jewell, entertainment committee, conducted a contest on TV and radio characters.

Members were reminded their next meeting will be a picnic at the home of Mrs. John Anderson at Akeley on August 28, members to meet at the fire hall at 6:30 p. m. if they desire transportation. Serving as committee for the event will be Mrs. William Lyon, Mrs. George Hedges, Mrs. Avis Rosendahl, Mrs. Dan Larmer and Mrs. Ray Shields.

To conclude the busy evening, lunch was served by Mrs. Ed Barrett and Mrs. Clara Bailey.

Baptist Sunday School Picnic Set for Midway

Members and friends of First Baptist Sunday School already have a neat circle marked on their calendars for the date of Wednesday, August 7, since that will be the occasion of their big picnic at Midway Park on Lake Chautauque.

A recreational program has been planned from 3:00 until 6:00; brief devotions will last until 6:15, after which all will gather 'round for a basket picnic. Each family is reminded to plan a tureen and to bring table service, the coffee cream, sugar and lemonade to be provided.

General headquarters for the group will be in Pavilion No. 2 with the following committee set up worked out:

General chairman, Jerome Paul (transportation, Clifton Johnson); tables, Ralph Owens; coffee, Ruby Carlson; lemonade, Fran Hetrick; coffee and lemonade serving, Fred Maher; devotions, Micky Williams; tickets for rides, Llewellyn Gibson.

The Mature Parent

If Mom Gripes Over Chores, No Wonder Norma Does, Too

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

OUR 12-year-old Norma's Saturday morning chore is collecting soiled linen for the laundry. She performs it slowly and reluctantly.

Often we come on her sprawled on a stripped bed with a comic, soiled sheets and pillow slips heaped beside her. With exasperation, we say, "All worn out, are you? How would you like to be me? I'm so tired I could hardly crawl upstairs—and I've still got vacuuming to do and lunch to get before I can sit down. But someday, Miss Worn Out, you'll have to take responsibility!"

Will Norma take it someday?

I CAN'T imagine why she'd want to. Nor will you if you'll listen again to what we've told her. We've told her that grownup responsibility is crushing burden. We've told her we find our adult work as a homemaker intolerably unrewarding.

How, with this revelation of our resentment of responsibility, can we expect Norma to want any? How can we expect her to want to be anything but a perpetual baby whom other people serve?

The answer to the problem of a chore-resisting child is our acceptance of part of his chore.

Right beside our comic-reading daughter we demonstrate our acceptance of responsibility. Without any criticism for her at all, we gather up the soiled linen next to her saying, "I'll put these in the hamper for you while you strip the other beds."

TODAY we hear a great deal of talk about making children "responsible."

We forget that the root meaning of the word is "response." A child's sense of responsibility is his "response" to our attitude toward work.

For some curious reason, parents often feel a deep resistance to the idea of helping children with chores. Their training has somehow left them with the impression that such help is indulgent and weak-minded.

In this begrudgement of cooperation with Norma, we have the cause of her bad "response" to cooperation with us. To understand this is to be freed into action on these frustrating occasions.

Where Did You First Meet Your New Car?

Was it in an advertisement? So often the first meeting is . . . and how much it means to you and your family now. But it means even more to countless others, whose jobs depend on car sales.

When you buy a car, you help pay the salaries of your local dealer's salesmen. Part of your money went into their bank accounts, to their grocers, to other suppliers here in Warren. The circle goes on widening to include literally thousands all over America . . . all kinds of people in all kinds of jobs.

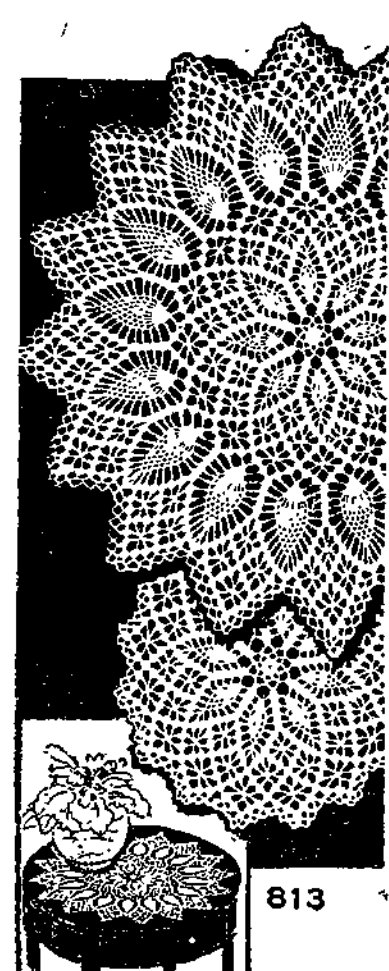

They buy cars, too, and millions of other items every day. Many of these sales begin with advertising on newspaper pages like this, country-wide.

So you can say, truthfully, that every time advertising helps to make a sale, your own paycheck and your family's way of living are just that much more secure.

Red Cross Newsletter

Red Cross workers and other friends of this national and international institution will read with interest that George Korson, who has edited the Red Cross Newsletter since early 1952, is leaving the organization to accept a Guggenheim Foundation Fellowship and write a book on the folklore of the Pennsylvania Dutch in the anthracite coal mines.

Recently elected president of the Pennsylvania Folklore Society, Mr. Korson already has seven books to his credit, including "At His Side", a saga on ARC World War II work overseas; "Pennsylvania Songs and Legends"; "Songs and Ballads" of the Anthracite Mines; "Minstrels of the Mine Patch"; and "Coal Dust on the Fiddle".

The Blood Program, as a gesture of international friendship is evidenced in the report that 297 men from Destroyed Squadron III, U. S. Navy, one-third of the personnel, were honored at the Australian Blood Transfusion Service, Queensland Division at Brisbane.

Berkeley, Calif., ARC Chapter, in cooperation with the Community Council of Social Welfare, recently conducted a special project of orientation for Japanese wives of GI's and veterans. The course is similar to that taught by the Red Cross in Japan, its topics including food, clothing and make-up, health care, and home care of the sick.

In addition to 18 American Junior Red Cross members from the United States who will be attending the leadership training center in Germany and four attending centers in Japan, 25 others will take part in an international study program this summer.

Philadelphia County Medical Society has conferred the Benjamin Rush Award on the Red Cross Gray Ladies for their devotion in volunteer services in four federal and 48 civilian hospitals in Greater Philadelphia. Last year, more than 1,500 Gray Ladies gave 349,000 hours of their time to these hospital patients.

With a grant from the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, the American Psychiatric Association is planning a 1958 conference on "The Role of Volunteers in Treatment, Care, and Rehabilitation of the Mentally Ill".

Cooperating will be four related organizations, American Red Cross, Veterans' Administration, American Hospital Association, and the National Association of Mental Health. The conference will study current practices in volunteer services to the mentally ill, wherever they may be, with a view to developing standards and guidance for such service.

Gathered From The Party Line

Mr. and Mrs. John MacDonald, with their daughters, Betty and Kathy, of Corpus Christi, Texas, left Sunday for New York City after spending a week with their aunt, Mrs. Palmer Davis, 102 East street.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Reiley, Venturatown, have returned home after spending a week's vacation in Washington, D. C., and Alexandria, Va.

Nine young people of Calvary Baptist parish left Sunday to spend a week at the Middle East Baptist Bible Camp at Burton, O.: Linda McKelvey, Trudy Chase, Barbara Swanson, Kathy Clark, Linda Thompson, Judy Hewitt, Donald Confer, Richard Thompson and Roland Wentz.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Paterson have returned to their home in Cleveland, O., after spending a week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Paterson, 422 Pennsylvania avenue, east, and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie P. Smith, McPherson street. Mr. Paterson is employed as an assistant bank examiner for the Ohio Division.

The Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Cruickshank, who have been spending the month of July at Chautauque Institution and enjoyed a weekend visit with their sons, Frank and Jim, left this morning for their home in Toledo, O., where Mr. Cruickshank is an assistant Presbyterian pastor. Minister of the North Warren Presbyterian church from 1932 until 1946, he was guest preacher in his old pulpit Sunday morning, with a good turnout of members and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. "Moon" Scallise, 308 Laurel street, were in Pittsburgh over the weekend, the former participating in a couple of the games of the American Contract Bridge League's Summer National Tournament in session at the Penn-Sheraton Hotel.

line in the conducting of investigations by my deputy, the State Police and myself. This money was advanced by me personally and for which I was reimbursed by the District Attorney. The salary portion of this amount was earned by working long hours, many times around the clock, six and seven days a week.

A statement that is utterly false is the fact that you allege that I stated if the State Police handled the criminal investigations there would be an increase in crime in Warren County. What I actually said was that the State Police in Warren County are under-manned, and without more men or county assistance, crime would increase in Warren County. Furthermore, you as county commissioners, should realize that the principal functions of every county government are the protection of its citizens, the enforcement of law, and punishment of criminals. These are the highest and most pressing duties which the law imposes upon any county or upon the county authorities, and any expense necessary to punish criminals and bring the guilty to justice is an expense imposed upon the county by law. It is a duty that cannot be avoided. The authorities cannot avoid it if they would; they should not if they could. In all expenditures for the punishment of crime the real question is: are they necessary in order to secure the enforcement of the criminal laws? If they are, then a duty exists to make the expenditure, and it may be said to be involuntary in the sense that it is not an expense sought and incurred as the result of deliberate bargain, but arises from the necessity of enforcing the law.

I do not feel that our county can be compared with the other seventh class counties you quoted in either area or population. Warren county has one of the greatest concentrations of hunting lodges, summer homes, and oil properties among these seventh class counties. Many of these properties lie in isolated areas. The owners as taxpayers are entitled to protection.

You mentioned your confidence in the Pennsylvania State Police. Let me assure you that I have the highest regard for their capabilities as a law enforcement agency, born of 25 years of personal experience in working with them as a member of the State Highway Patrol, the Pennsylvania Game Commission and the office of sheriff for a period of seventeen years. However, please do not lose sight of the fact that one of the most cherished and fundamental principles of a democracy is that of the right of its citizens to go to the polls and select their chief law enforcement officer. Take that right away and place law enforcement in the hands of those not directly accountable to the people, and the citizen has lost another round in the battle to preserve his rights. The sheriff makes investigations for the county prosecutor, the courts, the coroner, serves writs such as warrants, summons, attachments, executions, replevins, garnishments, subpoenas, injunctions, peace bonds, notices to quit, evictions, levies on real estate and personal property, and other documents in connection with both criminal and civil cases. The transfer of any part of this work from the sheriff to some other agency would not remove the responsibility for this work from the county but would just transfer it from an elective person who is subservient to the voter, to some other agency.

I have no argument with you as county commissioners for testing the legality of the sheriff's office doing investigative work for the District Attorney. However, I do not understand your attitude in withholding compensation due me for investigations my office conducted under court order. I was informed that you considered this action as far back as April, yet no notice was given to me until after the expenses were incurred. I feel that you owed me the courtesy, as an employee of this county, to inform me of what action you contemplated, the same as I feel that you owed me the courtesy of a copy of your letter to newspapers and radio. I sincerely hope that no other county employee will come to your office and be informed after working all month, that you have decided not to pay them, and if they wish their salary, to go to court and try to get it.

I still contend that this argument lies between the District Attorney's office and your office. I just happened to get caught in the middle, being the one who has paid the expenses for criminal investigations for the protection of the citizens of Warren county, and now being denied the reimbursement of them by you, the Board of Commissioners of Warren county.

Yours truly,
L. E. Linder

"Penn Center Patriarch"

REV. G. HALL TODD
Patriarch of the Arch Street Presbyterian Church

(Editor's note—"Penn Center Patriarch" is the name given Arch Street Presbyterian Church in Philadelphia where the pulpit is occupied by the Rev. G. Hall Todd, son of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Todd, 512 Fourth Avenue. This article about the landmark church appeared in the July 28 issue of the Today magazine section of Philadelphia Inquirer.)

LUDLOW

Of late, the Arch Street Presbyterian Church, 18th and Arch Sts., has come to be known as "The Patriarch of Penn Center." This 102-year-old church, built one year after consolidation of the original city and the subsidiary communities surrounding it is Philadelphia county, stands like a graceful reminder of Philadelphia's past in the shadow of modernity: the Penn Center Development. Towering just above the church is the Sheraton Hotel, and guests from there sometimes help to swell the congregation on Sunday mornings.

Experts say that some of the most notable examples of Greek architecture in the U. S. are to be found in the sanctuary. Therein are 16 Corinthian columns, 22 antae, a majestic dome and a pulpit platform with columns suggestive of the Parthenon.

Last year the exterior of the church was redecorated. For more than 40 years after it was built, the church was known as West Arch Street Presbyterian Church. In 1897 it merged with the original Arch Street Presbyterian Church, which had been located at 10th and Arch street. The present pastor is the Rev. Dr. Galbraith Hall Todd.

YOUNGSVILLE

Youngsville—Red Circle of the Methodist church will meet for a luncheon picnic dinner at one o'clock Wednesday at the home of the president, Mrs. Mark Shurwin, West Main street extension.

Mrs. F. Bowland is ill at her home on Bates street.

Island Park was the scene of six family reunions over Saturday and Sunday, and all enjoyed good weather.

Twelve Boy Scouts of Troop 31 went Sunday to Camp Olmsted for a week. Many of them expect to earn merit badges while there.

RUSSELL

Russell—Friendship Club was entertained by Mrs. Fred Park on Friday, with eight members on hand for a one o'clock luncheon dinner and a pleasant social afternoon of visiting and fancywork. Next meeting of the group will be with Mrs. Paul Landell on August 9.

Engene Fogle, Scoutmaster of Troop 14, with 19 of his Scouts, spent last week at Camp Olmsted.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whisner and family have moved to Warren.

CONVICT SUSPECT—Brockton, Mass., police say that ex-convict Raymond F. Ohlson, above, a 20-year-old sex offender, has confessed to the murders of two young brothers. Ohlson, a Brockton man, is shown as he entered the police station. The charred and stabbed bodies of the brothers, Edward P. Logan, 11, and John, 12, were found in a smoldering park fire.

Former Pennsy Official
Here Plans To Retire

Tomorrow Claude M. Smith, yardmaster, and Merl Annis, engineman, will retire from service with the Pennsylvania Railroad to close out railroad careers that began near the turn of the century.

Mr. Smith, 66, senior yardmaster in the Olean district, started working with the Pennsy in his native Brookville in 1912 as a warehouseman. In 1916 he transferred to Erie as a clerk. He was promoted to assistant yardmaster at Warren, in 1918. He was yardmaster at Erie and Warren before going to Olean in that capacity in January 1939.

Mr. Smith resides at Hinadale, N. Y.

Mr. Annis, 70, a native of Olean began working as a freeman on the PRR's old Allegheny Division in 1909. He was promoted to engineman in 1913 and has worked in the Olean area all of his life. He is currently assigned to the Olean-Bradford local freight crew.

UNAFFECTED—Miriam Montanez, left, is as happy as any other 16-month-old toddler in her Hoboken, N.J., neighborhood. No one would suspect that the youngster has a sewing needle deeply imbedded in her brain. The needle, shown in X-ray photo at right, will probably remain there all of Miriam's life, doctors say, because an operation to remove it might be fatal. It was a year ago that a picture frame fell on Miriam. Doctors predicted that the needle, which had been stuck in the picture frame, would not interfere with her life. So far they've been right.

would go along with the Senate bill if it is passed in its present form—that is, with no jury trial provision—even though the Senate previously knocked out a house-approved section providing sweeping powers of enforcement in many civil rights cases. The Senate bill is primarily a right-to-vote measure.

Knowland said the House would not be likely to go along with a jury trial amendment since it specifically voted down such a provision before passing its own bill.

The addition of a jury trial amendment, Knowland said, would very likely stalemate the legislation between the Senate and House. As a result, he said, probably no civil rights bill of any kind would be adopted at this session.

Knowland would not say whether he expects Eisenhower to take any further action to help the opponents of the jury trial idea.

Afterward he told newsmen: "He's okay. It seems to be more mental than physical. He said he felt a bit sick, but I think it's nothing serious. Hope not."

The youthful champion, unmarked, was accompanied by his wife, Sandra, and his manager, Gus D'Amato. They arrived shortly after 11 a. m. and 25 minutes later Jackson sent down word from his room that he would see Patterson alone.

"We talked about five minutes," Patterson said, "and he wishes me lots of luck. I told him if he's here for a few days, I'll drop in to see him again."

RESERVATION REMINDER

All Warren County Active Volunteer Firemen are reminded to make reservations for the regular meeting to be held at 7 p. m. Thursday, August 8. Dinner time is 7 p. m.

FALSE ALARM

All Warren Borough Fire Department central station equipment sped to Sylvania Plastics Plant on Lexington avenue at 11.11 this morning after a maintenance man had opened a hydrant regulator on the roof which lowered pressure in the line which in turn set off an automatic alarm at the station. There was no damage.

EMERGENCIES

Emergency ward at the hospital yesterday was in low gear when they treated just 4 patients as follows: Gloria Chruscz, RD 1, Clarendon, injury to left thumb; Larry Littlefield, 129 East Wayne street, laceration of left foot; John Morrison, 46 Meadow Lane, removal of splinter from right hand; JoAnne Henry, 24 South South Street, fractured right foot.

ON DEAN'S LIST

Announcement is received from Pennsylvania State University that Charles Conway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Conway, Sr., 208 Conewago avenue, has attained Dean's List rating for his work in oil and gas engineering in the spring semester at the Engineering School. Chuck is spending the summer in Casper, Wyo., as a "roustabout" for the Continental Oil Company and writes that he is having a wonderful time camping in his outfitted station wagon and fishing weekends in the Rockies.

Work Crews Busy
Making Plans for Lander Gala Days

Work crews are extremely busy shaping last minute details for Lander's Gala Days August 1, 2, 3, under the direction of the Lander Volunteer Fire Department and auxiliary.

Thursday, the affair will be opened by a children's pet parade at 7 p. m. with the big parade Saturday night at 7. Friday has been designated "Old Fashioned Night" and a full round of pleasures from doin's indoors and out is promised.

A big attraction will be the amateur horse-pulling contest Saturday afternoon at 1:30. A large number of entries have already been received.

Pony rides will be available to the kiddies each evening and all day Saturday.

A committee has great plans in store for August 31 when Lander Volunteer Fire Department will bring the Jamestown Chapter of SPEOBQSA to Eisenhower High School auditorium. This will be a great chance for local and area residents to see at least the auditorium of this new high school, although the rest of the school won't be open for touring. A nice drive through the country will be in store for all who journey to this affair. Tickets are now in the hands of all Lander firemen and a later announcement will note other places of purchases.

Eagles are not particular in building their aeries (nests). Sometimes, in these highly placed nests have been found golf balls, lightbulbs and fish plugs.

150 Players Ranging in Ages From 8-17 Appearing in All-Star Game

The batter swings! And a liner whistles down the third base line driving in the winning tally. What boy wouldn't like to perform this feat? Plays like this happen often during the good games as played all summer long in the Warren Hot Stove League. The above picture will be seen throughout Warren and the county on window display cards urging everyone to attend the popular Kiwanis sponsored Hot Stove "All-Star" games to be played Saturday, August 10th starting at 2:00 on War Memorial Field. Rain date August 17th. Stokes Studio.

Enthusiasm for the Kiwanis sponsored Hot Stove "All-Star" games to be played August 10th on War Memorial Field continues to mount as over 150 "All-Star" players, ranging in ages from 8-17, prepare to display to the folks of Warren many thrilling big league maneuvers. Hot Stove Style.

For the second time since Hot Stove came into existence in the winter of 1949, two teams of "All-Star" players from each of the five divisions will be matched against one another.

This new type of Hot Stove competition, attended by 1000 persons last year, was thoroughly enjoyed by sport fans and all Hot Stovers who either played or simply cheered for their buddies with the expectation that some day they, too, might play in these exciting games. Everyone enjoys a ball game and this is especially true when the players are 8-17 years old.

So that no one will have to go without his evening meal as these games will get underway at 2:00 and last until 8:00, a concession will be on hand with cold potato salad, baked beans, hamburgers, hot dogs, pie, ice cream, pop, candy bars, peanuts, and popcorn. As a great deal of work and planning is being done to take care of the large crowd that is anticipated, everyone attending the games will find the concessions prepared to take care of snacks and evening meals.

All proceeds from the games will remain wholly within our community as a percentage of the gate will be given to the Hot Stove League. The balance will be used to replenish the Kiwanis Club's Underprivileged and Welfare Fund.

The disbursement of funds by the Kiwanis Club is controlled by the Board of Directors, and aid is given directly to cases referred to the Kiwanis Club by various county agencies such as the Children's Aid Society, Crippled Children's Committee, the Salvation Army, as well as cases referred to the Directors by the various club committees.

Auto Sports Car Club Holds A Large Rally in Titusville

Thirty sports cars, ranging from a 1929 Bugatti to a 1956 Corvette, took part Saturday in the second annual Titusville rallye sponsored by the Auto Sports Car Club of Warren, of which Sidney D. Blackman is president.

The rallye started from Titusville Airport at 1:30 with cars leaving in one-minute intervals. The route was from the airport to Titusville, up Franklin Street hill, down Route 8 to the Petroleum Center road and over to Plumer. The first checkpoint was at the Plumer School. From there they went through Plumer to the Allegheny river until they came to Hunter bridge. Then they traveled up to Neiltown and over to Pleasantville. Leaving Pleasantville the cars went down Route 227 to the Titusville-Enterprise road where the last checkpoint was located.

After the rallye drivers and their navigators went to Art Erickson's garage for a chicken dinner. Calculating devices of all kinds, including the simplest calculating disc to the elaborate Allen calculalso, be secured from all Kiwanians and many Hot Stovers, who are angling for 10% of their total sales and prizes for the most tickets sold money wise.

Prizes are now on display in S. S. Kresge Company's window and consist of 1st, ball glove; 2nd, ball shoes; 3rd, ball bat; 4th, base ball; 5th, ball socks.

Admission is $1.00 for adults and 25c for students. All active Hot Stovers will be admitted to the games free of charge by showing their Hot Stove membership card which entitles them on to the field but not bleacher privileges. In case of rain, the games will be played August 17th from 12:00 to 6:00.

Patterson Having a Day and Half of Loafing Following "The Slaughter of 8th Avenue"

BULLETIN
East Meadow, N. Y. (AP)—Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, k.o'd by Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson last night, was rushed to a hospital early today, suffering from a urinary complaint. His condition was described as fair at Meadowbrook hospital. Whether the condition stemmed from blows suffered in his unsuccessful title quest was not known immediately. His mother, Mrs. Georgia Jackson, took the boxer to the hospital by automobile at 4:30 a. m. Jackson told hospital attendants he "felt bad."

By MURRAY ROSE
New York (AP)—Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson today planned the luxury of a day and a half of loafing following his butchering of Tommy "Hurricane" Jackson in the title fight now called the "Slaughter on Eighth Avenue."

Then the champ will resume training for his "fantastic" title defense against Pete Rademacher, 1956 Olympic heavyweight champion, at Seattle August 22.

For his "shutout" 10th round technical knockout of the game, lamed Hurricane at the Polo Grounds last night, Patterson earned a guaranteed $175,000. For his defense against Rademacher, who never has fought pro, the fast-striking titleholder will collect a $250,000 guarantee.

This adds up to $425,000 for two fights within 24 days for the one-time wayward boy who is following in the footsteps of the fabulous Joe Louis on boxing's golden trail.

Weighing the heaviest of his career at 184 pounds and punching with blinding speed, Patterson, 22, scored his 19th straight victory and may have ended the fistic career of the fighter known as the "Animal" in boxing circles.

They call Jackson "Animal" because of his ability to absorb punishment and his tremendous stamina. But he took too much for any beast before referee Ruby Gold-

Texas & Harrison Continue To Win, Take 5th in Row

Texas Lunch combined outstanding defense, brilliant pitching and clutch hitting to notch their 5th straight second half triumph in the City Softball League, defeating Culligans 4-1 on West Side Field last evening.

Bob Harrison hurled the hot dog team to victory, allowing only 7 hits and walking only 3 men. Louie Check broke a 1-1 tie in the sixth inning, singling home 2 runs. Defensively, Dick White and Bob Baker were outstanding in the field.

Ken Sorenson also pitched brilliantly, allowing just 8 hits and walking only two Texans. Sorenson was also the hitting star for the losers, tripling home Culligan's only run. Bud Berdine chipped in with 2 hits in 3 times at bat.

Next Texas Lunch encounter will be against Jones Chevrolet on Memorial Wednesday.

stein ended the bout at 1:52 of the 10th with the protesting Jackson, 25, wobbling but on his feet.

The 192 1/2 pound challenger from New York had been dropped three times previously, and had been rocked from head to toe in almost every round by Patterson's violent bursts to Jackson's battered and bleeding face.

There was some confusion at the ringside over the counts of the knockdowns but Referee Goldstein said afterwards Jackson was up at the count of one in the first round the bell sounded to end the round, three in the second round and four in the ninth.

Rademacher, who watched the national telecast—only the New York area was blacked out—in Columbus, Ga., that "I haven't changed my opinion that I can beat him. We saw a few things I have to work hard on."

Broadway bookmakers tabbed the Seattle fight as a 10-1 and "out" betting proposition, meaning they will take only bets on Rademacher. Patterson was a 5-1 choice over Jackson and was 8-5 to knock him out.

Patterson will meet with the press at noon today, then rest until Wednesday when he will return to his Greenwood Lake, N. Y. camp, to resume work. He said he plans to leave for Seattle, August 12.

Jackson, who struggled to break loose from Referee Goldstein's grip when the fight was halted, muttered "the referee had no right to stop it."

If he really meant it, he must have been the only one in the overall crowd of 18,101 who felt that way deep down. The illiterate fighter has the body of a full grown heavyweight but the mind of a small boy.

Mizell Holds Bucs To Only Two Hits For 4 to 0 Shutout

St. Louis (AP)—Vinegar Bend Mizell, the unpredictable southpaw of the St. Louis Cardinals, allowed only two hits in pitching the Cards to a 4-0 shutout over the puny Pittsburgh Pirates last night.

The game was almost a duplicate of Sunday's first game in which rookie Von McDaniel blanked the Pirates 4-0 and gave up only one hit.

Mizell set the Pirates down in order in eight of the nine innings. With two out in the fourth he gave up a single to Dick Groat and a double to Frank Thomas, then struck out Roman Mejias to end the threat.

Charles (Whammy) Douglas, 22-year-old righthander just recalled from Columbus of the In-

Steeler Advance Squad Leaves for St. Bony

Pittsburgh (AP)—An advance squad of the National Football League's Pittsburgh Steelers left today for St. Bonaventure University, Olean, N. Y., to open training for the 1957 season.

The rest of the team will begin drills next Monday.

Six players remain unsigned. A Steeler spokesman said all are expected to sign by Monday. They are guards Dale Dodrill and Huck O'Neil, tackles Ernie Stautner and Frank Varrichione, fullback Fran Regel and halfback Sid Watson.

Signing yesterday were quarterback Ted Marchbroda and line-backer George Tarasovic.

International League, started for the Pirates and gave up seven walks in his five-inning stint. However, the one-eyed hurler escaped with only two runs scored against him. One was unearned.

Cards Shut Out Pirates and Continue Pressure On Braves

By ED WILKS

The Associated Press
Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell, who has been either very good or very bad so far, looks as though he has his "comeback" in the bag as the St. Louis Cardinals continue to put the pressure on Milwaukee in that National League pennant race.

He went 11 innings to beat Cincinnati 4-3 and pitch the Cardinals into the lead July 5. And it was he who gave up that grand-slam home run to Gil Hodges in the wild ninth inning at Brooklyn July 18 as the Dodgers beat the Cards in 11 and dumped them out of first place.

Last night, the 26-year-old lefty did all he could to help regain the lead, pitching a two-hitter that beat Pittsburgh 4-0. It was the eighth victory—and third shutout—in 10 games for the Cards, who shaved to half a game as the 4-run ninth-inning rally and then pushed over a 10th-inning run to beat the New York Giants 9-8.

That left the Braves three percentage points ahead of the Cardinals on the Brooklyn. The Dodgers' hold on third place was shaved to help a game as the Philadelphia Phillies, behind Robin Roberts' four-hitter, defeated the Chicago Cubs 6-0.

In the American, southpaw Billy Pierce won his 15th with a four-hitter as the second-place Chicago White Sox trimmed Baltimore 5-0.

Boston beat Cleveland 6-2 in the only other game scheduled. Only two men reached base against Mizell, who gave up a single to Dick Groat and a double to Frank Thomas with two out in the fourth, then counted Roman Mejias among his six strikeouts to end the frame. It was the third victory of the month for Mizell, who moped into July with a 1-6 record. Now he's 4-7.

Pierce, the top winner in the majors, walked none and struck out six as the Sox junked Hec Brown's four-hit shutout with three runs in the sixth on two walks and singles by Minnie Minoso and Luis Aparicio.

Tom Brewer won his fourth in a row as the Red Sox beat Mike Garcia. Ted Williams, 2-for-3 for a .378 average, singled and scored the clinching run in the fourth as Norm Zauchin doubled. Williams again was walked with men on first and second, but Jackie Jensen, who hit into a double play when the Indians tried the strategy for the first time Sunday, hit a two-run single this time.

Is Yanks' Berra in Slump Or Starting to Come Apart?

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—Yogi Berra leaned against a post in the Yankee dugout and ran his pudgy-strong hands over a new chest protector. He wore a pair of unfattering glasses, which he says he'll use in games, and the statistics sheet showed his batting average was .236.

"This is a good protector," Yogi was saying. "The old one over there, it's got all that foam rubber in it. Makes you sweat a lot. Boy, that tires you out. This one here has no rubber in it." He put down the protector and went out on the field to warm up. He was, to the onlooker, the Berra who has smashed apart the American League for years—a thick-legged, gorilla-sized guy who moves with implausible speed and puts unhittable pitches six or seven rows back in the bleachers.

But the Berra who wears glasses and has a .236 average is different. He is a man who pops to left field because he doesn't get the bat around in time to pull and he talks of being tired and not having any zip in his arms.

BERRA HAS OTHERS talking of him, too. To be blunt, more than a few people in baseball are asking if he's starting to come apart in his 11th year as a major league giant.

"They tell me," Manager Al Lopez of the White Sox comments, "that he's getting tired."

"We used to pitch to Mantle and walk Berra," says Coach Tony Cuccinello of the White Sox. "Or pitch him so far outside that if he did hit it, he'd single to left, not hit to right for two, three or four. Now we pitch to Yogi. That's why Mantle got all those walks. Looks to me like Berra just isn't mapping that bat around. You look it up, you see he's caught in an awful lot of games. They used him 151 games a year, double-headers and all."

"That could do it to you. To swing a bat and snap those wrists and hit the kind of pitches he did—throw one over his head and he'd hit it a mile—you have to be in perfect physical condition. Just get a little tired and there you are, no bat."

BERRA TALKED ABOUT these things over his usual post-game can of beer in the dressing room.

"It's not the eyes," he said, "it's here . . . my arms. I can't get them around like I used to. I get them around, but I don't do it all the time."

"I don't know, maybe it's just one of those bad years and I'll come back next year big. Maybe I need a good rest this winter."

For most of the season, Berra has batted behind Mickey Mantle and this highlights the kind of year he has had. For Mantle, now playing as if there never was another ballplayer, gets on base at a fantastic rate. But Yogi struggles along at a clip which is a full 30 runs-batted-in off his normal pace.

"My catcher," Casey Stengel tells you, "is starting to hit. He hit in the road. Hit one in Detroit pretty good. He will hit good."

MAYBE HE WILL. It certainly figures this way. But Berra's remark, "Don't forget, I'm 32 now," and what now seems to have been a planned campaign for less work ("I shouldn't catch no more double-headers") provokes a question. How much have the work-horse years of the past taken out of Berra?

The Yankees sum it up best. "Yogi Berra" one was saying. He rolled his head from side to side. "Once in awhile he hits it. But that ain't Yogi. I don't know what it is."

The man was wondering if one of the lifetime great ballplayers behind a mask had definitely started downhill.

Like everybody else, he was hoping it was just one of those years.

Gaughns, Warren Bank & Trust Take Bantam Hot Stove Titles

Gaughn's Drug downed Warren National Bank 18-0 last evening on Jackson Field in the Bantam league giving them Western division honors. Nichols, Lucia (2) had homers with Scallies and Greco battery. Scallise, winning pitcher, twirling a no-hitter. Egger and Simmons were battery for Warren National.

Warren Bank and Trust came out the Eastern Division Champions last evening in the Bantam league on Beatty when they faced Warren Transfer and downed them 5-3 going into 2 extra innings, and getting the 2 winning runs in the 8th Stanton had a homer for the Champs, Porter, Minter, triples, Rodgers, Minter (2), doubles. Loomis and Minter were battery for Warren Bank and Trust, Loomis, winning pitcher. Brown and Sedor composed battery for Warren Transfer. Thus was Loomis' 9th win.

Community Discount defeated Warren Drug 5-2 on South Side last evening in the Bantam division. Hulquist, winning pitcher for the victory, also had a double, with Rudolph behind the plate. Lynd had a double for Warren Drug, Swanson and Wenzel, battery.

Clarendon Merchants beat Warren Observer 13-1 Thursday at Weldbank in the Midget league. Scallise had a homer and a double, Dorrison, Baker, Jackson, triples. Baker and Dorrison comprised battery for Clarendon, Baker, winning pitcher Rhoades and Knowlton were battery for Observer.

Western Auto won over WNAE 9-1 last night at Russell in the Midget league. This was a make up game in which the only extra base hit was a double for Western Auto by Olson. Land, Rydholm, Fritchard composed battery for the winners, Land, winning pitcher Wilkins, Birt and Anderson were WNAE battery.

Robin Roberts Appears To Be Back on the Beam

Chicago, (AP)—Robin Roberts is back on the beam and his revival could push the Philadelphia Phillies to a pennant in the tight National League race.

Roberts hurled a four-hit, 6-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs yesterday to keep the Phils two games behind Milwaukee's league-leading Braves.

It was Roberts' 187th major league triumph but only his eighth against 13 setbacks in what has been the roughest season of his career. It was his first shutout in more than a year.

"Why all the fuss," asked Roberts, 30, after the game. "I didn't pitch this one any differently than I have several others this season. Sure, I was lucky. I won I could have won some of those other games, too, but I wasn't as lucky as I was against the Cubs."

One of the big reasons for the "fuss" was the fact that Robin didn't serve a home run ball. This was the first time in his last 13 starts that Roberts hadn't thrown the gopher ball. Roberts has been chipped for 29 homers this season, 10 of which have beaten the right-hander.

Lacy Bounces Back For 13-4 Win Over Valones' Atlantic

Lacy's Confectionery bounced back (after losing their first 3 games) to bang out a 13-4 win over Valones Atlantic last evening at the State Hospital in City Softball league.

Lacy's, who have been without the aid of their star pitcher, Gene Sweet, seemed to have come up with another ace, Roy Giunta. He pitched a brilliant 6-hitter and chipped in with a home run.

S Cummings also homered for Lacy's. The victors now have a 1 win, 3 loss record.

among the 64 who will start match play tomorrow. Bill still may be a serious contender.

Scarborough, who has gone to the quarter-finals or beyond for the past three years, shot a 79 in the first half of the 36-hole qualifying test over the short but troublesome Hershey Park course yesterday.

Nine strokes off the even-par pace set by three other oddly assorted players, he is in danger of failing to make the qualifying grade.

Williams' Bat Backs Up Brewer for Victory

Boston (AP)—Ted Williams backed up Tommy Brewer's eight-hit pitching with a double and a single in three official trips to the plate yesterday as the Boston Red Sox defeated the Cleveland Indians 6-2.

Williams, who boosted his American League leading batting average to .379, drove in the tying and tie-breaking runs. He's now hitting at a .582 clip against the Indians over the season.

Brewer, notching his 13th victory against eight losses, worked his way out of several jams as he went the route for the 13th time this season.

The game was tied 2-2 until the sixth when the Red Sox scored two runs. They added two more in the seventh.

BURKE ON U. S. TEAM

Dunedin, Fla. (AP)—Jack Burke Jr. heads the list of 10 U. S. golf professionals named to play the British in the Ryder Cup matches Oct. 4-5.

Burke is on the team for the fourth time, more than any other member. Ted Kroll will be playing for the third time. Doug Ford and Tommy Bolt will make their second appearance. Others selected by the Professional Golfers Assn. yesterday were Lionel Herbert, Dow Finsterwald, Ed Furgol, Fred Hawkins, Dick Mayer and Art Wall Jr.

Assemblyman Reporting

Newsletter for the Warren Times-Mirror prepared by Assemblyman Allen M. Gibson, assistant floor leader, House of Representatives:

This statement is issued to give the people of Warren county the true facts in regard to the Welfare Department and the Warren State Hospital in particular, since considerable publicity has been given to Secretary of Welfare Harry Shapiro's misleading statement on the welfare budget.

First, the Warren State Hospital is the best run mental institution in the state and has been for many years. The credit for this job is due Doctor Israel and his staff and the people working in the hospital including those over sixty years of age. It is not due to Secretary Shapiro, who is a Johnny-come-lately on the scene.

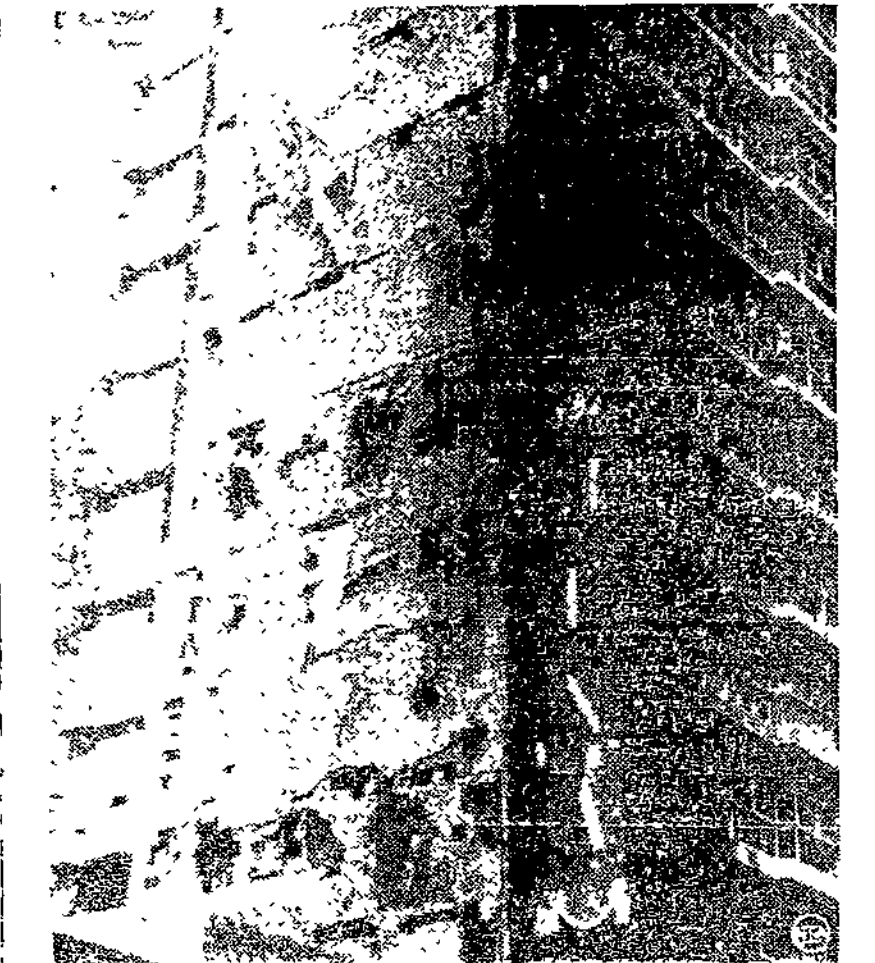

Second, the Welfare Department and the Warren State Hospital budget has not been cut as stated by Shapiro, but has been increased each biennium. In fact the Department was given so much money the past biennium Shapiro and his staff were unable to spend it all. But undismayed, they ask for a staggering increase of $48,000,000 more. Here are the budget figures for Welfare Department and for Warren State Hospital for the past two bienniums and the current 1957-59 biennium:

Welfare, 1953-55, $142,203,780, 1955-57, $193,348,275; 1957-59, $201,000,000.

Warren State Hospital, 1953-55, $6,588,420; 1955-57, $3,674,500, 1957-59, $3,974,000.

In other words, there is an increase of approximately $300,000 more for Warren State Hospital in the 1957-59 biennium than was appropriated for the last biennium of which $400,000 was not spent which makes a total of approximately $700,000 increase for Warren State Hospital for the coming biennium. In spite of frantic efforts by the Welfare Department in the last three months of the biennium to spend all of the 1955-57 appropriation, the legislature granted a substantial increase. The 1957-59 appropriation is $8,000,000 more than was appropriated in the 1955-57 biennium and $21,000,000 more than was actually expended in the last biennium by the welfare department.

The Welfare Department is the only department of state government which has not submitted final accounting figures for its operation in 1955-57. These figures are now weeks overdue. Because the Department of Welfare under Secretary Shapiro is in such chaotic condition, their own accountants don't know actually where they stand. Governor Leader spent hundreds of thousands of dollars to set up an accrual accounting system so each department would have fully accurate day-to-day knowledge of the department's and the state's finances. The system apparently is not working for never in years has the legislature had so much trouble in securing up to date and accurate information on the state's finances.

You have read much about the budget cuts the legislature made this year. This is a misleading statement and the Leader administration has tried to create the impression by half truths and noisy propaganda that the state was being thrust back into the dark ages. This is not true. We cut the extravagant spending plans of Governor Leader Shapiro and Company by nearly a hundred million dollars. But in spite of every reasonable economy, the legislature did increase the appropriation for education, state mental institutions, state aided hospitals and many other state services for our citizens by nearly $250,000,000 more than was spent in the last biennium. This represents an increase of 40% more than was being spent when Governor Leader took office two and one half years ago after campaigning on an "economy platform" and promising to reduce the cost of state government by one hundred million dollars.

I'll mention one more statement by Secretary Shapiro which burns me up. Shapiro said he would fire some people because they were too old (over sixty) to do a full day's work for a full day's pay. I personally know many of the people at Warren State who are over sixty and they are performing a full day's work and furthermore they know their jobs. When Shapiro says he can replace these people by younger employees who will do twice as much as an older,

Playground News

Attendance at the borough playgrounds was good in spite of one day of threatening weather with some rain as 7809 youngsters visited the areas. Vacations at some of the industrial firms also helped to reduce attendance from the record high of last week.

The new playground on Beech street beside the Oneida Lumber Company will be ready for children by Wednesday. This is a small area and is designed primarily for small children. The area will be supervised from 10:00 to 12:00 in the mornings and from 1:30 until 4:30 in the afternoons, Monday through Friday. Equipment will remain open for children accompanied by adults for evening use.

The Japanese beetle hunt last week proved to be an interesting affair with more than 50,000 beetles meeting their doom. The largest collection was produced by Duff Lundquist from Lacy Playground with 9,335 in his collection. Dee Mullen, also of Lacy, captured 4,085 for the second highest total. Many other youngsters captured more than a thousand.

The fishing excursion to Lake Erie was cancelled because of little interest.

This Wednesday will be Junior Olympic day. Girls and boys from the various playgrounds will compete as a unit to try to bring the championship to their area. Many running, jumping and throwing events are held to include children from 7 to 16 years of age.

The crafts program at the high school art room still is very popular. The class meets each Monday and Wednesday at 1:00 p. m.

Special events for this week are: Tuesday, old clothes and dress up day; Thursday will be pantomime day; Friday there will be balloon blowing contests at each area.

More than 200 youngsters competed in the various special events last week with the winners as follows:

Airport
Whistling Contest—Frank Bova
Tail Tales—Frank Greco, Julie Cummings.

Soil Conservation Society Meeting At State College

Pennsylvania's outstanding conservationists will be chosen at State College at the annual meeting of the Keystone Chapter of the Soil Conservation Society of America on August 2-3.

Annually the chapter honors a person who has made a prominent contribution in the field of soil and water conservation, according to Professor C. R. Bryner, State College, chapter president.

"Water is rapidly assuming the highest importance in the east for agricultural, municipal and industrial uses," said Mr. Bryner. "The unsung efforts of many Pennsylvania citizens to manage the raindrop from mountain tops to the sea through modern land conservation and utilization practices will be appreciated by generations to come," he said. "Our award is an attempt to anticipate that recognition," he added.

The program beginning at 2:00 p. m. on Friday, August 2nd will feature Dr. William L. Henning, State Secretary of Agriculture, "The Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture," Prof. H. C. Kranzer, "School Camping and Outdoor Education," Col. Allen F. Clark, Jr., "The Engineers and Flood Control," Dr. Roy Matselski, "Basic Studies of Pennsylvania Soils," and Dr. H. R. Albrecht, "New Zealand's Lesson for Pennsylvania." On August 3rd, the program includes "Conserving Human Values" by Dr. W. G. Mather and "Conserving the Strength in Family Life" by Dr. William M. Smith. Dr. Lyman A. Jackson will welcome the group to the University Campus.

The Society is composed of professional conservationists. The Keystone Chapter covers the entire state excepting Philadelphia.
